Market Reports Textiles, Apparel, Footwear and Travel Goods

Argentina

The following information is provided only as a guide and should be confirmed with the proper authorities before embarking on any export activities.

Import Tariffs

Argentina and its Southern Cone Common Market (MERCOSUR) partners, Brazil, Paraguay and Uruguay apply a common external tariff (CET) on most products imported from non-MERCOSUR countries. However, there are a number of exceptions in several categories, including textile and apparel products. Full CET product coverage, which would result in duty free movement within MERCOSUR, was originally scheduled for implementation in 2006, but has been deferred until 2009. Tariffs, listed in the table below, are assessed on an ad valorem basis, i.e., duties are assessed as a percentage of the cost, insurance, and freight (c.i.f.) value of the imported merchandise.

Administrative Mechanisms--Customs External Note 87/2008 of October 2008 establishes administrative mechanisms that could restrict the entry of products deemed sensitive, such as textiles, apparel, footwear, toys, electronic products, and leather goods, among others. The stated purpose of the measure is to prevent under-invoicing. While restrictions are not country-specific, they are to be applied more stringently to goods from countries considered "high risk" for under invoicing, and to products considered at risk for under invoicing, as well as trademark fraud.

Certificate of Origin--A certificate of origin is mandatory for the importation of fabrics, garments, made up goods and footwear for domestic consumption. The certificate of origin must be issued in the country of origin by the competent government authority or by the entity to which this function has been delegated. Certificates of origin must be legalized by the Argentine consulate in the country of origin and are valid for six months.

Import Licenses--Non-automatic import licensing requirements apply to a wide range of products, including apparel and footwear to toys, luggage and certain household goods. Regulations require pre-registration, review and approval of every import transaction. Importers are required to provide additional documentation to an office within the Argentine Ministry of Economy and Production (MEP) for review and approval prior to the shipment of their products. Import license applications must be registered with the Under Secretariat for Trade Policy and Management for customs clearance.

Statement of Product Composition--Under Resolution 404/2016, domestic producers and importers of textile products and footwear must submit a Declaration of Product Composition (Declaración Jurada de Composición - DJCP) to the Secretariat of Trade that includes the percentage fiber composition for textile products, and constituent materials for footwear. The DJCP is to support the accuracy of the information included on the product label. If discrepancies are found, the National Institute of Industrial Technology (INTI) may carry out technical tests on samples of the products.

Port Restrictions--Customs Resolution No. 3/2010 provides an updated list of authorized ports-of-entry for textiles and apparel (NCM chapters 50-63), footwear (NCM chapter 64) and travel goods (NCM 42.02). The new resolution lists two additional authorized ports-of-entry for the above mentioned products. Ports as listed in Resolutions No. 3/2010 are as follows:

Standards

The MERCOSUR Standards Association, AMN (Asociación MERCOSUR de Normalización - AMN), previously known as the Comité MERCOSUR de Normalización) – made up of the standards institutes of Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay, and Uruguay -- develops and harmonizes standards. The five countries generally adopt all of these regulations, though not always at the same time. Several hundred standards are at different stages of preparation or in the work plan. Venezuela will participate in this activity, as well, as a full member of MERCOSUR.

Labeling

Textiles and apparel:

The Southern Cone Common Market (MERCOSUR) countries, which include Argentina, Brazil, Paraguay and Uruguay, have adopted new labeling requirements for textile and apparel products produced in or imported for consumption into a MERCOSUR member country. The Mercosur Technical Regulations on Product Labeling Textiles (Reglamento Técnico Mercosur Sobre Etiquetado de Productos Textiles) requires the following information on a permanent label that is either attached, stamped, printed or otherwise affixed to most textile and apparel products:

- name or registered brand and unique tax identification code (CUIT) for the domestic producer or importer
- country of origin
- fiber content

Statement of Product Composition--Under Resolution 404/2016, domestic producers and importers of textile products and footwear must submit a Declaration of Product Composition (Declaración Jurada de Composición - DJCP) to the Secretariat of Trade that includes the percentage fiber composition for textile products, and constituent materials for footwear. The DJCP is to support the accuracy of the information included on the product label.
